

00:21:47 glenna wisniewski: trying to track a bag down—they are all out

00:23:25 Mandy Travis: It's about respect for others!!!!

00:23:36 Rebecca Kluberdanz: Completely agree!

00:23:57 Scott Kushner CNY Digital Inclusion: Me too!

00:24:58 Peter Schult: Maxwell's plan is to open 8/10. That's 3 weeks away, though, so we'll see how things go between now & then.

00:25:08 Claire Ehrlich: I believe our plan is to accept any SUNY ID

00:25:46 Marilyn: I have a staff meeting at 10:30 this morning, hoping we are getting some information on what is going on here at SUNY Morrisville.

00:25:51 Amanda Schiavulli: What if libraries were consistent with the restaurants on masks? If you're sitting at a table, you can take your mask off but the minute you get up, it needs to be worn. Although, computer users would have to wear masks always. Thoughts?

00:26:07 Claire Ehrlich: But we're still trying to clarify with our admin on whether community members are allowed on campus and will even get through the checkpoint downstairs

00:27:40 Mandy Travis: @Amanda I somewhat agree but now with the research on aerosols lasting longer in the air that protocol is questionable.

00:28:28 Mandy Travis: My mic isn't working but I put something in the chat about that.

00:29:12 glenna wisniewski: I think it makes sense in a restaurant because of the consumption of food/drink. We are not allowing either right now in the library so I am inclined to say masks while in the library.

00:29:20 Manlius Library: We're going to require it everyone for the entire time they are in the library

00:29:53 Cristina Pope: masks to be worn at ALL times in shared areas in the Library - so every except for your office or a study room with the door closed

00:31:28 Mandy Travis: Scary right!

00:31:50 Amanda Schiavulli: A few of my server friends said they haven't had trouble with folks getting up and down without a mask. But that makes sense with the food too.

00:32:57 Amanda Schiavulli: "Read this Sign, Get a Prize!"

00:33:17 Mandy Travis: We don't at NOPL

00:33:21 Cristina Pope: nope ... but we should. Will work on it!

00:33:51 Claire Ehrlich: When I was at a public library, one of the door handles broke. We wrapped the handle and the whole door in caution tape and put a big "please use other door —>" sign on it.... people still tried to use it

00:35:30 Mandy Travis: I am working on our budget now for October. We will see how the vote goes but we are looking to ask for a very small increase.

00:36:04 Mandy Travis: Yes, it will effect system services.

00:36:18 Mandy Travis: Not sure

00:36:27 Amanda Schiavulli: Haven't heard anything yet either

00:36:41 Mandy Travis: The System is funded by the County so it will get hit just don't know how much

00:37:04 Scott Kushner : yes that's why I wondered

00:40:21 Mandy Travis: And don't call me Shirley

00:40:39 Amanda Schiavulli: I was just about to say SHIRLEY

00:42:19 Scott Kushner : What's that? Oh it's a big building filled with sick people

00:42:23 Mandy Travis: For our adult reading program we purchased gift cards from local businesses. People are loving it.

00:44:17 Amanda Schiavulli: OMG YES! The cooking show is AMAZING

00:44:26 glenna wisniewski: gift cards are great—we can't do that because we are a school district public library—so we have some donated plus gift memberships to Beaver Lake, MOST as “grand prizes

00:44:34 Claire Ehrlich: Our hypothesis is that research projects got downscaled or jettisoned when everyone transitioned to remote

00:46:34 Peter Schult: zucchini

00:48:10 glenna wisniewski: LPL has a big home school population and we have several programs geared toward them. One of our librarians was a home schooler so she heads that

00:48:51 Mandy Travis: @Scott you should have a Zoom program where the homeschool parents facilitate a conversation about how to do it

00:49:22 glenna wisniewski: Scott reach out to Deanna McGregor here at LPL she would be happy to let you know what we do here at LPL
