OUR STAFF

I am truly amazed at how libraries have been able to adapt and show resilience in a time of crisis. We are grateful at CLRC for the continued support of the volunteers who serve on our committees and board despite the strenuous demands at their organizations. As we continue to acclimate to the new now, CLRC takes pride in being able to hear the needs of our members. Our dedicated staff continues to work towards helping our members ensure library operations can meet the challenges faced. Many thanks to the CLRC board for recognizing the need to fund the Crisis Response Technology Grants that boosted library budgets and enabled many of our members to make it through lean times. Times have changed and continue to change, the CLRC team will always work hard to stay up to date in providing services and programs to meet the needs of our members. - Marc Wildman
